Notes from the pulpit

Dear friends:

It is hard to believe that summer is coming to an end. The kids are going back to school, and very soon it will be time to start back to Sunday School, Presbyterian Women, and other activities on our fall schedule.

As we think about transitioning to fall, I thought it would be a good time to talk about a transition within the PC(USA). On June 7th Trinity Presbytery in South Carolina became the 87th and final vote needed to approve the New Form of Government which was passed by the 2010 General Assembly. The New Form of Government, or nFog, took effect on July 10th.

You may be thinking I haven't noticed any changes in how the church operates in the last month, so what does this mean for us? Under the New Form of Government many things will stay exactly the same. What the nFog offers us, though, is much more flexibility to do our ministry in a way that fits our time and location. When I read the original draft of the nFog a couple of years ago, I wasn't expecting to like it. I wasn't sure we really needed to overhaul the Book of Order. However, as I began to read it, I got excited about the new form of government because I realized we were leaving behind the idea that one size fits all. The nFog is especially welcome news for smaller congregations such as ours. We no longer have to struggle to meet quorums or fill slots on committees that make no sense for our church. As Rev. Dan Williams, co-moderator of the nFog task force, says the new form of government doesn't change what our governing bodies are expected to do, but allows individual governing bodies to choose who does the work and how it gets done.

As we live into this new form of government many things will stay the same, but over time you may begin to notice some changes in terminology and process. For instance, Ministers of the Word and Sacrament are once again called Teaching Elders. At our August meeting, the session also began to review some things such as quorums and policies that we will need to set for ourselves in the near future.

If you would like to read the new form of government for yourself, here is the web address for it: http://www.pcusa.org/media/uploads/oga/pdf/amendments\_219\_part1.pdf

I'm excited for all this year holds for First Presbyterian Church. I look forward to ministering among you this coming year.

In Christ,

Pastor Jennifer

Divine forgetfulness

For humans, forgetfulness can be frustrating and worrisome. Yet it can be a blessing to be able to forget certain things.

The late professor and author Gerhard E. Frost noted that “forgiveness is a beautiful form of forgetfulness” — a heaven-sent absent-mindedness.

For what is failure to forgive but the refusal to release a memory of someone’s hurtful actions? Only by releasing old grudges and choosing to forget past wrongs can we find peace. For help, we can look to God as the ultimate example of “forgetting” sins.

The Treasurer reported the following figures for July:

Total Income	$ 13,143.60
Total Expenses	$ 14,496.90
Total	$ (1,353.30)
Year to Date
Total Income	$ 96,917.20
Total Expenses	$ 100,356.00
Total	$ (3,438.80)

P.W. NEWS

Do you faithfully attend P.W. meetings every year?
Do you come to P.W. once in a while?
Have you never made it to a P.W. meeting?

No matter which one of the above categories you fit into, I hope to see you at our first fall Presbyterian Women's meeting on Thursday, September 1st at 10 a.m. in the Coffee Room. Our study this year is on "Confessing the Beatitudes." For September we will be studying "Greatly Honored Are the Poor!" from Matthew 5:3 and Luke 6:20,24.

It's going to be a great study and will be even greater if you are there to help us ponder these Biblical truths from the Sermon on the Mount.

Please keep Leah Buckland, our P.W. leader in your prayers.

But those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint.

Might and power

In one of my earliest memories, I watch as my parents tie our swing set to a big oak tree in our back yard. It was hurricane season in southern Louisiana. My 5-year-old mind couldn’t imagine how a storm could be strong enough to blow away the play equipment.

But my parents could. As New Orleans natives, they knew all too well what hurricanes can do. So with skies still blue and waters still calm, they prepared for a coming storm they couldn’t yet see.

The author of Proverbs writes that the fear of the Lord helps us avoid “the snares of death” (14:27). Allow God’s greatness to shape and influence your actions. Then you can rest securely in the One who has power over everything — even hurricanes.

—Kari Myers

Acts 20:35

In everything I did, I showed you that by this kind of hard work we must help the weak, remembering the words the Lord Jesus himself said: ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive.’

Giving sets us free, while hoarding entraps us (James 5:2). Giving changes the lives of others (John 3:16). Giving brings blessing back to us (Luke 6:38). Giving allows us to store up treasures in Heaven rather than here on the earth (Matthew 19:21). Giving really is fun – we need to be in on it.

CHURCH NEWS:

Notes from the Music Department

It is September all ready!! Maybe some cooler weather will also come along. That would be so nice! I think we could all use a break from the hot and dry summer. And we still need to pray for rain!

Choir practice will start back on Wednesday, September 7, 2011 at 6:00 pm for just this Wednesday. We are going to have a little choir party before practice. We will begin regular practice on September 14 at 6:30 pm staying on that schedule for September 14, 21, and 28.

The Opening Response for September will be “Spirit of the Living God” pg 322 in Hymnal. The Closing Response will be “The Lord Bless You and Keep You”, and will be a bulletin insert.

We keep Malnor Arthur, Scott Glenn, Alice Harvey, Hal Hebermehl and Leah Buckland family in our prayers as always. We pray for continued strength and healing for all those mentioned and for all our church family. We always hold all our members, past and present, in our thoughts and prayers.

May the Good Lord bless and keep you all as we travel this world.

Love and Grace - Pat Petty and Choir

Seek to please

Shift your prayer life from “Please, God” to “Please God.” Take the comma out of those two words when you pray, and transition your praying from asking God for things to asking God for the pleasure of God’s pleasure.

Follow God's lead

Have you ever watched a well-trained dog walk with its master? On or off a leash, the dog will slow or quicken its pace, turn left or right, or immediately stop at the soft command of his master's voice.

Such isn't the case with my pooch. Either he's straining ahead or lagging behind, darting after a bird or stubbornly lingering over an interesting scent. He isn't content to follow my lead.

Sometimes that latter scene resembles my own walk with God. At times, I rush ahead or lag behind, veer to the right or stumble to the left, oblivious of my Master's pace and direction. How much better to walk closely with God and let him lead!

"O LORD, God of Israel, there is no God like you in heaven above or on earth beneath, keeping covenant and steadfast love for your servants who walk before you with all their heart" (1 Kings 8:23, NRSV).
